

'Rising Sun over the blues', 2021

23x32 (2 canvases)

Acrylic painting

I love yellow color and I feel like I needed it the most while going through many gloomy days during winter in Canada. We all miss the warmth of the Sun during that time.

'Rising Sun over the blues' is like a vitamin D that's most needed to keep the positive mode, finding a reason to smile more.